

Healthwatch Southwark

A review of GP out-of-hours answerphone messages - what do they tell us?

March 2016

Healthwatch Southwark: Who we are & what we do

Healthwatch Southwark is the local independent champion for health and social care services in Southwark. We want all people in Southwark to be able to access the best health and social care services possible.

We inform people about how to get involved in their local health and social care services. We encourage people to tell us what they like and what needs improving, and we work in various ways to ensure that different voices are equally heard.

Healthwatch Southwark uses people's feedback to inform those who design, deliver and commission local public health and social care services.

We sit on several boards and committees, so we can effectively use our influence to provide constructive insight and recommendations about how to improve services and make them more accessible to those who need them.

Why review GP out-of-hours answerphone messages?

From speaking to Southwark residents, we have learnt that there is a lack of awareness around where to go for support when a GP is not available i.e. out of hours.

Our engagement on GP access and use of A&E walk in services has shown us that many people don't know about extended access services, SELDOC or the NHS 111 service which are available.

Some people told us that they use A&E when their GP cannot offer an appointment soon enough or if the GP is closed. We know this is putting a lot of pressure on our hospitals, therefore we felt the need to see what information GPs are giving to patients about these other services.

There are 44 GP surgeries in Southwark. By reviewing their out-of-hours answerphone messages we can gain a better understanding of the consistency and content of this information.

We want to highlight which GP surgeries have good, accessible and coherent messages, and to identify those where improvements could be made.

What are the out-of-hours services available to Southwark residents?

SELDOC

In Southwark, the SELDOC service (South East London Doctor's Cooperative) can provide urgent medical care when GP surgeries are closed. It provides a telephone service and on-duty doctors from 6.30pm until 8.00am on weekdays, and 24 hours during the weekends and bank holidays. The phone number is publically available; therefore it should be a well promoted service.

Extended Primary Care Services (EPCS)

NHS Southwark Clinical Commissioning Group (CCG) is investing £2 million per year in the Extended Primary Care Services to improve access to GP services. There are two locations of this extended service, one in North Southwark (Bermondsey Spa Medical Practice) and one in South Southwark (Lister Primary Care Centre). The service is available 8am - 8pm seven days a week. This is not a walk-in service - a GP or SELDOC must refer you to make an appointment.

111

111 is an NHS free number which is available 24 hours a day, 7 days a week. You will speak to a trained advisor who will ask you a series of questions and will then direct you to the best medical support. 111 should be used when you need urgent medical advice or advice on where it is appropriate to go, but the situation is not life-threatening. The phone number is publically available; therefore it should be a well promoted service.

Accident and Emergency (A&E) Departments / Urgent Care Centres (UCC)

A&E deals with genuine life threatening emergencies, serious illness and serious injuries, and UCCs deal with less severe injuries. Even though these services are available 24 hours a day, 7 days a week, they are not an alternative to GP appointments.

999

999 is a free number which is available 24 hours a day, 7 days a week. It should be called in a medical emergency - when someone is seriously ill or injured and their life is at risk. The phone number is publically available; therefore it should be a well promoted service.

What we did in this review of out-of-hours answerphone messages

On the week commencing 1st February 2016, the Healthwatch Southwark team recorded all 44 GP answerphone messages out-of-hours.

We then listened to these messages, recorded what was said, and matched against the following criteria:

1. The message says that the surgery is closed
2. The message states the surgery opening and closing hours
3. Information on NHS 111 is provided - for medical advice
4. Information on SELDOC is provided - for urgent medical care when GP surgeries are closed
5. Information on 999 is provided - for medical emergencies and potentially life threatening

We believe that surgeries should be able to fully provide each of the five indicators explained above.

In this report we have highlighted performance of each GP surgery's answerphone message against our criteria. We have also provided recommendations and comments for each one. There is also a suggested answerphone message template for all GP surgeries, to ensure consistency.

Summary of findings from our review

Overall, the answerphone messages of the 44 Southwark GPs are inconsistent in their messaging. Of the 44 practices we called:

- 3 have information on all 5 of our criteria
- 12 don't mention opening and closing times.
- 4 don't mention SELDOC, when to use it and how to contact it and 2 give the wrong number for SELDOC.
- 19 don't mention NHS 111, and 14 are giving the contact number for NHS Direct (replaced by 111).
- 11 don't mention 999.
- 2 surgeries are still directing people to the 'walk-in' Lister Centre which is no longer providing walk-in appointments.

See 'full breakdown of the data' section of this report for a breakdown of each GP's answerphone message against our criteria.

Recommendations and next steps...

The great thing is changing an answerphone message costs nothing! We encourage each GP practice to consider our comments and recommendations for their answerphone message. In this report we have outlined 5 criteria which we feel a 'good' answerphone message should include.

We have also provided a template which could be used by GPs so there is standardised messaging about out-of-hours services across Southwark.

By using our recommended template, we will have an agreed standard for telephone messages to ensure consistency of information.

With the support of Southwark CCG we will share this report with all 44 practices and their Patient Participation Groups (PPGs).

Full breakdown of the data...

Healthwatch have devised the following criteria for an out-of-hours answerphone message.

Criteria 1: The message states that the surgery is closed

Criteria 2: The message states the surgery opening and closing hours

Criteria 3: Information on NHS 111 is provided - for urgent medical advice

Criteria 4: Information on SELDOC is provided - for urgent medical care when GP surgeries are closed

Criteria 5: Information on 999 is provided - for medical emergencies and potentially life threatening

The table below transcribes each of the out of hours answerphone messages and shows how each one performs against these criteria. We also provide recommendations, sharing of good practice and observations.
